

1            Abstract

2            The invention pertains to a method for increasing the activity of agrichemicals
3            and controlling their drift by specially formulating an deposition agent with fertilizer.
4            This unique combination has been seen to allow lower use rates of fertilizers as pesticide
5            efficacy enhancers and improved deposition of sprays.

6

7